Excerpt from The Call of California, and Other Poems of the West: The Call of California From your Missions, old and gray, At the crimson close of day! can hear the bells a-ringing, soft and low; While the gay guitar of Spain Lends a plaintive, sweet refrain From the dim, romantic days of long ago, - Long ago, long ago, long ago, From the Padres and the Dons of long ago. From Sierras, thunder-riven, Shadowy peaks arise to heaven - Hooded saints, whose names are benedicite; From the canons purple rim Downward rolls their matin hymn Over golden-fruited valleys to the sea; To the murmuring pines beside the shining sea, Till it mingles with the music of the sea. In this sunny land of mine, With its honey, oil and wine, And its poppy fields aflame with living gold; In this Eden of the earth God is bringing to the birth Greater wonders than He wrought in days of old; In the bold days of old, the days of gold, Than He fashioned through the Argonauts of old.
