CASCADE BOOKS, 2014. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .How you eat affects the planet-and everyone else on it. What you eat might literally cost the earth. But it has implications for your health, the grower or producer, and the way you think about the world. What in God s Name Are You Eating? is full of questions and information to help you and those you live and work with reflect on major issues about food and lifestyle. Andrew Francis is a community theologian who grows vegetables and fruit in his backyard, bakes bread, and cooks for family, friends, coworkers, and his students. He is an artist and poet who puts his hands in the earth, who has traveled widely and has eaten with many and is still learning from different races, faiths, and cultures. What in God s Name Are You Eating? is about how we live now so that the world s peoples might have life and a long future. While the reflection is rooted in radical Mennonite Christianity, the challenge is to those of faith (and of none). This book invites you to choose life. Francis sets out to tackle what is undoubtedly one of the most important issues we are facing today: our diets. What we put on our plates, and how it found its way there, has political, economic, and steep environmental repercussions. What in God s Name Are You Eating? can have a direct and immediate impact on our lives, the lives of others, and the planet. Put down whatever else you re reading and read this book. It s that important. --Tripp York, co-editor of The Peaceable Kingdom Series Jesus enjoyed eating; and so should we, but not on the basis of ignorance. So argues Andrew...
