Knopf/BOMC. 1 Cloth(s), 2012. hard. Book Condition: New. Between Abraham Lincolns election in November 1860 and the firing on Fort Sumter in April 1861, a long tradition of political compromise broke down, and a rapid succession of events led to the Civil War. William Cooper surveys the wide variety of Northern and Southern responses to the looming conflict, and reevaluates the actions of such prime movers as Lincoln, Jefferson Davis, William Henry Seward, and James Buchanan, providing insight into what is still one of the most controversial periods in American history."Written with characteristic panache, deeply researched, and replete with shrewd judgments and welcome fresh perspectives, Coopers richly detailed study of the secession crisis should delight fellow scholars and general readers alike. Its a gem of a book."Michael F. Holt 334.
